

OSHA 1910.147

Lockout/Tagout Training for Authorized Personnel

Live Webcast – JAN 29 2018

Who Should Attend?

This training is specifically designed, per OSHA's requirements in 1910.147(c)(7), for authorized employees who service, operate or set-up equipment in the workplace. For anyone in the workplace who has the potential of being exposed to hazardous energy and needs to understand how to isolate and control those hazardous energy sources – this training program is critical! This training is also designed for managers, supervisors, and any other employees who have the responsibility of managing your company's Lockout/Tagout program.

Date and Time(s)

JAN 29th

7:00 AM – 8:00 AM (Eastern)

1:00 PM – 2:00 PM (Eastern)

Of the top 10 OSHA violations in 2018:

Lockout Tagout was #5

“Without a doubt, this was the best hour of training my employees have ever participated in - very informative and right to the point. Thank you!”

Jim Klein, CSP – Safety Manager, Bransen LLC

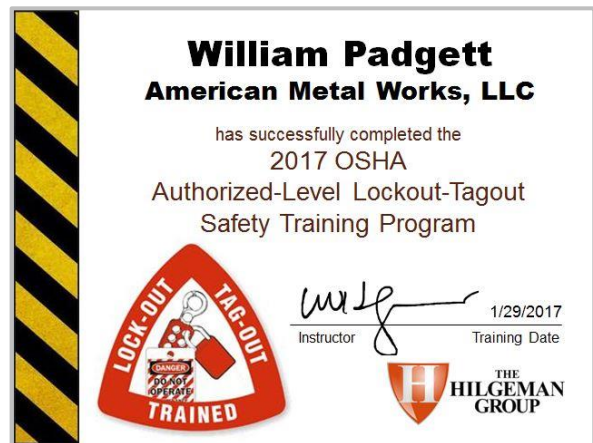

Trainee Take-Aways

- World-class training from instructors who have a reputation for delivering common-sense, impactful training to employees across the United States.
- Explanation of how the newly increased OSHA penalties will apply to Lockout Tagout violations.
- Discussion of ‘Best Practices’ being utilized by companies across the United States.
- Review of the key OSHA enforcement targets being focused on during workplace inspections.
- Personalized safety training certificates which can be provided to OSHA to demonstrate compliance with this training standard.

Course Content

- OSHA’s 2018 Enforcement Data
- OSHA’s Newly Increased Penalty Amounts
- The OSHA Lockout/Tagout Standard
- Recognizing Equipment and Energy Hazards
- Lockout/Tagout Procedures
- Group Lockout/Tagout
- Lockout/Tagout Devices
- Energy Isolation Controls
- Lockout/Tagout Release
- Outside Personnel/Contractors
- Periodic Inspection Requirements
- Accident Case Studies

Pricing (per location)

$495 (includes up to 20 trainees)
$35/per for each additional trainee

www.thehilgeman.com

To register, or for more information, please contact Angie Hilgeman, our Web Training Coordinator, at:
ahilgeman@frontier.com